IMPORTANT NOTE

St Ives Showground is a National Park.
Tick Protection is required for your dogs.

Check your dogs for ticks

Tick Deterrent

From the old timers

In tick season when they are bad, add a pinch of sulphur powder (1/4 of what would fit on a 5 cent piece) on the dog's dinner each night for a month.

Then 3 times a week is ample.

NB: Disclaimer

The Dachshund Club of NSW Inc in NO WAY endorses this method of tick prevention. There is no Scientific evidence to prove its efficacy. Consult your vet before using this method

Throughout the year, all dogs in the bushland coastal areas of Sydney need to be checked daily for paralysis ticks and to have tick control treatment regularly administered. The St Ives Showground, Sydney, venue of the 12th Dachshund National Specialty, Easter 2018, abuts Ku-Ring-Gai National Park on 3 sides and exhibitors will need to take appropriate precautions. Bravecto is generally now recommended by local vets in these areas. An alternative method using daily doses of sulphur

The Venue

For all camping at St Ives Showground

Due to St Ives being a National Park, there is normally no camping allowed on the grounds.

The Dachshund Club Of NSW has been given approval to have

Dachshund Exhibitors Camp on the grounds at St Ives Showground for A Special Event

The 12TH Dachshund National Specialty Show

There is "No Provision for Dumping Of Waste Material" on the grounds.

There are plenty of facilities on the grounds for campers to use

Please be mindful of this Thank you

Why Waratahs?

For a show with a trophy theme of all things Dachshund why are all 1st place getters receiving a Waratah Mug and all Best Opposites receiving a Waratah Plate?

Well may you ask. Almost eighteen years ago the NSW Club was planning to hold the 2003 National. Naturally there was heated discussion about the design of a logo for the show.

Moira Sherwood insisted that because the waratah is the Floral emblem of our state it should be a waratah. My thoughts were that because the show was to be held in Sydney that our Harbour Bridge and our New Year's Eve fireworks should feature. I won a hollow victory as I was designing the logo. Moira was gracious but I know she would rather had had her waratah theme. So this time around the Waratah prevailed. Somewhere in the Heavens I imagine her smiling her wry smile denoting her pleasure!

Trophy Donations

Planning for the 2018 Dachshund National Specialty Championship Show next Easter at the magnificent St Ives Showgrounds is well advanced. This was one of the major venues for dog shows in Sydney prior to the establishment of the Bill Spilstead Complex for Canine Affairs at Orchard Hills.

There are expansive grassed areas for dog showing and exercising. Parking and camping are accommodated beneath the tree canopy which extends from the adjoining Ku-Ring-Gai National Park.

An indoor area is available in the event of bad weather and catering and bath room facilities are excellent.

Best of all, we have the venue to ourselves.

From all indications, the trophy table will also be magnificent. As well as cash prizes and practical items for dog showing and breeding, it will also include Kathy Anderson's amazing collection of rare and prized Dachshund inspired items which she has kindly donated.

It includes unique, individual Limited Edition plates, original paintings, statuettes etc.

This is a wonderful start and all members and exhibitors are invited to make a

Cash Donation of $10.00 or more which will be acknowledged in the show catalogue. The funds received will be used towards trophies, medallions and ribbons. Should you wish to sponsor a particular class contact Bill Hardie 02 9477 2421 or Nikki Anastas 0411 363 885 or a committee member to confirm your wishes.

Updated camp site list

Great news we now have more camping spots with power outlets across from camp site 1 & 2 near the toilets , the event area camp site 4 so we will all be close to one another.

Anyone who wants to camp behind the oval near the hot showers in camp site 3 is good to do so also.

Payment for camping stating -camping and number of nights staying can be sent to Pat Thomas at $35 (via internet transfer or cheque)a night power site.

I will no longer be marking out sites however I will designate maximum number of people allowed in camp area 1 & 2 and rest in camp area 4.

Anyone else will be added to camp site 4 most likely.

Note: I will be there to help anyone, I just don't know if I'm camping all the time or I'm going back n fourth to St Ives. This will be updated as I know more.
